THREE ARRESTS MADE MORE RACE TROUBLES

Excitement at Russellville is Still Unabated This Afternoon.

Girl's Cousin Arrested for the Murder and Is Under Guard at Present.

LOUISVILLE PEOPLE POISONED

ANOTHER ARREST MADE.
Russellville, August 22—Theodore Marshall, a cousin of the accused murderers of Miss Zoda Vick, Hugh Marshall and Leslie McMillan, was arrested by officers this morning, and all are in the hands of officers, awaiting the depositions which will be taken.

The streets are crowded, and every few moments additional squads leave for the scene. Every available horse is in use and many have gone on foot as the only means of getting there.

SOCIETY PEOPLE POISONED.

Louisville, August 22—The sensational intelligence reached the city this morning of the poisoning at Old Sweet Springs, Va., of several prominent society people of Louisville. Mrs. Helm Bruce, Misses Sallie and Lillie Satterwhite, Miss Mattie Sievier Bonnie, and Mr. and Mrs. Allan P. Houston, are the Louisville guests among two dozen others now confined to their rooms from ptomaine poisoning. The only explanation of the poisoning is that it resulted from eating canned goods.

GREER AND MARBLE

PARTNERSHIP HAS BEEN FORMED AND JUDGE MARBLE WILL REMAIN.

The partnership between Judge W. D. Greer of the city, and Judge Wm. Marble, of Princeton, has been effected, and Judge Marble, who has been here some time looking over the field, is so pleased with Paducah that he has decided to permanently locate here, and the partnership will establish the firm of Greer and Marble.

Judge Greer is too well known to require an introduction, but Judge Marble is one of the brightest and most popular gentlemen in Southwest Kentucky. He thought for a time of entering the race for circuit judge in Judge Nunn's district, but has decided not to.

CHOPPED OFF HER HEAD.

Muskogee, I. T., August 22—James Hope, a Creek freedman and farmer living 17 miles west of Eufaula, was lodged in jail here today, having confessed to killing his wife because she joined a secret society. He chopped off her head.

QUELLED A MUTINY.

Des Moines, Ia., August 22—A telephone message from Centerville states that a mutiny occurred in the county jail early today, resulting in the serious wounding of Sheriff Davis.

The sheriff's wife seized an ax, and with the assistance of Deputy Bevington, who had a revolver, forced the prisoners back into their cells. The mutiny follows a series of attempts to break jail within the past week, two of which were successful.

TWO HAVE RESIGNED

Aldermen Langstaff and Boone's Resignations Were Accepted.

Nothing of Interest Done at the Regular Meeting of the Board Held Last Night.

SEVERAL ORDINANCES PASSED

The board of aldermen met last night in regular session with all members present except Aldermen Boone and Langstaff.

The minutes of the last regular meetings were read and adopted. The mayor's report on the sale of the two street railway franchises was received and filed, and the sale ratified.

The action of the mayor in re-loaning the sinking fund was ratified.

The deed to the Carnegie library site was reported signed up fully and it was ratified and ordered recorded.

The resignations of Aldermen Boone and Langstaff, effective September 1, were presented and accepted.

The opinion of City Attorney Werten saying that the telegraph and express companies could not be made to pay a license tax was read and received and filed.

His decision in regard to the license tax on telegraph poles, saying that no license tax could be imposed on the companies for poles, was read and filed.

The city attorney's opinion that Contractor Patterson had to repair the concrete pavements as per contract was presented and a conference ordered between the street committee, attorney and Patterson to see if the matter could not be adjusted without a legal fight.

The supervisor's reports of reductions in assessments, held over from several meetings past, were received and filed.

The finance committee reported the expenditure of $995.56 since the last report.

William Augustus, the assistant fire chief, was allowed his month's salary. He had been ill that length of time and had not been on duty.

A communication from C. C. Rose, the insurance man, suggesting that the city put in one more fire station with three men and one more hose reel for better fire protection, thereby reducing the rating, which will shortly be done under a different method from heretofore, was read and referred to a committee for investigation. The communication also asked that the $50 yearly tax be lifted from the company's shoulders. This was also referred.

The report from the railway committee deciding that the council or board of aldermen could not settle the hack muddle at the passenger depot, was received and filed.

The resolutions to exempt the Kentucky Iron Co. and the Seacoast Mineral Co. from taxation for a period of five years, as an inducement to locate here, was referred. It seems that there is some question as to the power to do this as the plants to be used by the companies are here and the location has already been made.

The recommendations of the fire and police commissioners to sell two disabled fire horses and purchase new ones were favorably acted on. The contract with the Dubuque Hose Co. and the city for the 4,000 feet of hose, was ratified.

The ordinance placing the police force under the direction of the chief of police was given second passage.

The ordinance designating the location of telephone poles was given first passage.

The market master ordinance, giving him power to place all vehicles and coops, etc., was referred to the ordinance committee as it was not properly drawn up.

The ordinance regulating the payment of firemen and police salaries, payments to be made semi-monthly instead of monthly, was given first reading.

The report of H. Hessig, the milk and meat inspector, was read and filed. The cemetery committee was ordered to have the benches in Oak Grove painted and also the purchase of canvas, to aid in the making of graves, made.

The hospital committee was ordered to make repairs at the city hospital. The saloon license of James McNulty was transferred from 115 to 117 North Fourth while repairs are being made to the former building.

H. E. Whitesides was refused a liquor license at 1041 Court street. Pat Lally was allowed a liquor license at Tenth and Trimble streets. A complaint from the Cumberland Telephone Co. that the Independent Co. was setting poles on the same side of the street that the Cumberland poles were located, was filed and the matter was referred to the joint street committee.

The matter of the purchase of property on which to make the extension of the market house, when a new one is built, was referred to a committee to bring in a report at the next meeting.

On motion the board adjourned.

REFORMER'S DEATH ORDERED.

EMPEROR DOWAGER REQUIRES EXECUTION OF KUNG YU WEI.

London, August 22—A dispatch from Shanghai to the Times says it is learned from an entirely trustworthy source that Wan Chih Chun, the new governor of Kwang Si, has received secret instructions from the empress dowager to secure the death of the reformer, Kung Yu Wei.

An official telegram from Hankow states that there have been anti-Christian riots in Chenchia, in the province of Hunan.

Two inland missionaries named Bruce and Lewis, it is reported, have been murdered. The report has not been confirmed.

MR. HENRY HANS BETTER. Rev. Father Jansen returned from Dawson last evening, and reports Mr. Henry Hans much improved. His condition was not so serious as thought for a time.

FOR STATE OFFICE

A Large Number of Candidates out for the Offices.

Only the Judges of Court of Appeals

Elected This Year—Governor

Next Year.

A FEW PADUCAHANS IN IT

The election of state officers is not to be held until next year, but there is already a large number of candidates, especially Democratic candidates for the offices.

This fall, however, four judges of the court of appeals are to be elected.

In the First appellate district Thomas J. Nunn, of Hopkins county, has been nominated by the Democrats to succeed Judge James D. White. P. H. Darby, of Princeton, is the Republican nominee against Judge Nunn.

In the Second appellate district the Republicans have nominated Judge B. L. D. Guffey, of Butler county to succeed himself, while the Democrats have named Judge W. E. Settle, of Bowling Green.

In the Fourth, composed of Louisville and Jefferson county, the Republicans have named Judge George Du Relle to succeed himself, and the Democrats have named Judge Henry S. Barker.

In the Sixth district, containing Campbell, Kenton and other Ohio river counties, the Democrats have put up Judge Thomas H. Paynter to succeed himself.

SOUTHERN LINES.

MUCH MONEY TO BE SPENT BY THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

Southern lines of the Illinois Central will come in for a liberal share of the $15,000,000 to be spent by that road in improvements, according to a prominent official of the Central. About 20 per cent of this amount will be expended in Mississippi and Louisiana, with a liberal allowance for Kentucky and Tennessee, the money in these last two states going to defray the expenses of double tracking the main line from Paducah south, via Memphis. President Fish has announced the expenditure of $4,000,000 out of the earnings this fall.

Within the last two years the Illinois Central has expended almost $6,000,000 in Mississippi alone, and there is even now a great deal of work in progress which will be completed this fall. The double tracking of the line below Jackson, Miss., is now under way, and various branches and feeders are in process of construction, involving an outlay of large amounts of money. In addition to the branch lines already in progress of construction, several others are to be begun soon and finished during the coming year. The company is now busily engaged with preparations for hauling the cotton crop of the south, and vast portion of the grain crops of the west, which will go over the Illinois Central on its way to the Gulf for exportation through the Crescent City.

To meet all the demands that will be made upon the road, the company has now large orders out for rolling stock. Last year the Illinois Central was woefully handicapped by its shortage of rolling stock, congestion of a serious character frequently resulting;

Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Tetter and Acne

Belong to that class of inflammatory and disfiguring skin eruptions that cause more genuine bodily discomfort and worry than all other known diseases. The impurities or sediments which collect in the system because of poor digestion, inactive kidneys and other organs of elimination are taken up by the blood, saturating the system with acid poisons and fluids that ooze out through the glands and pores of the skin, producing an insatiable itching and burning, and the yellow, watery discharge forms into crusts and sores or little brown and white scabs that drop off, leaving the skin tender and raw. The effect of the poison may cause the skin to crack and bleed, or give it a sealy, fishy appearance; again the eruptions may consist of innumerable blackheads and pimples or hard, red bumps upon the face. Purification of the blood is the only remedy for these vicious skin diseases. Washes and powders can only hide for a time the glaring blemishes. S. S. eradicates all poisonous accumulations, antidotes the uric and other acids, and restores the blood to its wonted purity, and stimulates and revitalizes the sluggish organs, and the impurities pass off through the natural channels and relieve the skin. S. S. is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier. It contains no Arsenic, Potash or other harmful mineral.

"I can cheerfully endorse your S. S. as a cure for Eczema, I was troubled with it for 22 years and tried many remedies with no good effects, but after using a few bottles of S. S. was entirely relieved." Wm. Campbell, 313 W. Central St., Wichita, Kan.

J. A. J. Montgomery, Puxico, Wayne county, Mo., writes: "I have little twin girls who have been bothered with worms all their lives. I tried everything to relieve them which failed until I used White's Cream Vermifuge; the first two doses brought four worms from one of them, the next two doses, twelve, one of them measuring twelve inches; the other child was relieved of four worms. Stockholders of the Illinois Central to Meet Oct 15th.

Will Vote on Absorbing Several Other Roads—More Work.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Illinois Central railroad company will be held in Chicago October 15. In addition to the regular routine business there will be submitted for approval of the stockholders propositions to purchase the railway property, corporate rights and franchises of the following companies, which are now leased or operated by the Illinois Central: The Chicago, Madison and Northern, the Kankakee and Southwestern, the Chicago and Springfield, the Mound City, the St. Louis, Alton and Terre Haute, the Chicago and Texas, the Chicago, Havana and Western, the Rantoul, the Illinois and Indians, and the River-side and Harlem railroads.

Three crews of 40 men each have begun work on the Murphysboro district of the Murphysboro division of the Illinois Central railroad. Ten-inch ballast will be placed on the grade and the steel replaced with 85 pound rails. This is the first movement toward establishing a second line through Murphysboro to be used for heavy freight traffic. This line will connect with the branch being built from Mounds to Thebes on the south, and the extension of the new route through Murphysboro on the north.

It is likely that the main line division now at Carbondale will be moved to Texas Junction, as after the new route is in use very little business will be sent over the main line through Carbondale. Murphysboro will be the changing point for Cairo and Paducah business, and Mounds for Chicago and St. Louis.

MISS VAN ALLEN IN MOURNING

Newport, R. I., Aug. 22—Miss May Van Allen, whose engagement to marry Robert R. Remington was recently broken, left "Wakehurst," her father's villa, today for the first time since Remington shot himself on Monday. She was dressed in mourning and wore a heavy black veil. Early in the day she entered a carriage and was driven to the yacht club, and from there she took a launch to the steam yacht Rhoda, where she passed the day with her sister, Mrs. Robert J. Collier.

It is said that Miss Van Allen has canceled all her social engagements for the season.

IS 121 YEARS OLD

A Remarkable Man in the Marshall County Poor House.

He Is Baptized in the Creek and Is Very Old and Feeble.

As little as has been said about it, no doubt Marshall county has living within her bounds one of the oldest men, if not the very oldest, in the whole country, says the Benton Democrat. Old "Uncle" Ples Warf, who now lives at the county poor house at Glade, claims he will be 121 years old next October. He says his father was in the siege of Yorktown, Virginia, in 1781, which battle closed the Revolutionary war. "Uncle" Ples claims his parents always told him he was born on the day the battle of Yorktown was fought, October 19, 1781 which makes him 120 years and ten months old. Mr. Warf moved to this country from Virginia 40 years ago and lived for many years in the Magness section of the county until five years ago, when he became unable to work and was sent to the county poor house where he could be cared for. His wife died a year or so before he went to the poor house, thus leaving him "old, lonely and in the way," as he has no relatives in this country. He has been an honest, hard working and quiet citizen, having never made any pretensions religiously until right recently, he having been baptized last Thursday by Elder W. A. Utley, who has just closed a very successful meeting at Glade. The old gentleman was so feeble that he was carried into the water in his easy rocking chair, baptized and brought out in the chair. So the Christian church at Glade has the distinction of having the oldest member of any church in the country. Mr. Warf is a good, old time citizen, and possesses good intellectual faculties, but his education is limited. He has two sons, one of whom is now living, but not near here. We have heard him tell how he and his wife, Gennie, "took up together." Indeed "Uncle" Ples is a wonderful man. He is small in stature, but possessed of a strong constitution, but has a club hand, it having been burned and drawn so that he has but little use of it.

WATCH FOR A CHILL.

However slight at this time of year and in this climate, it is the forerunner of malaria. A disposition to yawn, and an all tired out feeling even comes before the chill. Herbine, by its prompt stimulative action on the liver, drives the malarial germs out of the system, purifies the blood, tones up the system and restores health. 60c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

A Prominent Kentucky Elk Gives His Opinion of Carnival Rule.

Grand Knight Brock Says All Carnivals Are Not Prohibited.

It may be possible, after all, that Elks lodges can hold carnivals in the United States after January 1, despite the recent resolution prohibiting them, adopted by the grand lodge.

Mr. W. B. Brock, formerly a district deputy of Kentucky, but now grand esteemed leading knight, next to the highest officer in the lodge, was interviewed by a Herald reporter when he returned to Lexington after his Salt Lake trip, and said:

"The resolution was aimed at the street fairs, given particularly out of this state, and a class of exhibitions considered unworthy of the principles set forth by the Elks. The resolution adopted by the grand lodge prohibits all sorts of gambling and "skin" games, and exhibitions of an immoral shade. The question was asked on the floor before its adoption: "Does it apply to state and agricultural fairs?" And the answer was no. If the Lexington Elks decide to give a fair next year, the carnival feature is not necessarily eliminated, but might be in some respects restricted."

REQUISITION PAPERS HERE.

Chief Collins today received from Frankfort the requisition papers in the John Worley case, and they were sent at once to Nashville. He will be brought here as soon as the governor of Tennessee makes out the other papers.

DAILY THOUGHT.

What are investments in bonds and stocks, in houses and lands, compared with investment in an education, in a broad, deep culture which will enrich the life and be a perpetual blessing to one's friends?

—Success.

THE WEATHER.
Fair tonight and Saturday.

Fulton tries to imitate Paducah in everything. Yesterday the temperature went to 104 in the shade there.

Nobody will probably break his neck to become a member of the school board, and thus far only one man wants to be coroner.

Now that Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan has had his rest and Mr. Schwab is going to get his right off, it is about time the public was getting one.

The county committee says it met, and Chairman Charlie Emery says it didn't meet. We'll wait and see which one "them fellers at Frankfort" believe.

The report that Councilman Joe Potter wrote that scriptural call on himself to become a candidate for alderman is not generally believed. Councilman Potter couldn't get up such a good joke.

It's an ill wind that blows no one good. While some of the city officials were very sorry to learn of the city committee's action because they thought they had a sure thing for another year, there are a lot of others who fondly imagine they are going to get the places, and only waited for such a chance to show how it's done.

A question that is agitating the minds of the people of Connecticut is whether a man has a right to kiss the girl he's engaged to or not. One man tried it and she not only broke the engagement, but had him arrested and he was held in a $1,000 bond. The young man ought to feel relieved to be free from such a freak fiancee.

If every two men seen talking together on the night the $28,000 is alleged to have been taken from the express agent up at Fordsville were arrested for the offense the jails would be full of them. The fact that they were said to have been together seems to be the only evidence on which the poor devils were held over in $30,000 bonds.

Some of the papers and people who objected so strenuously when the claimants to the county chairmanship agreed to allow Hon. Charles Reed to represent the county committee at certain meetings, because he was "a bolter," are now howling for the fellows who, in their list of recommendations for a Democratic election commission, have named two of the worst bolters in Southwest Kentucky, and seem to be proud of them.

It was base ingratitude for the Democratic county committee to meet, or say it met, and fire Chairman Charles Emery. He is the most enterprising chairman they ever had, and was perfectly willing to attend to the business of the committee without any help from the committeemen. He seldom troubled the members of the committee with the petty details of county politics, but when there was anything to do, being virtually the whole committee in a nutshell, he did the work and saved them all annoyance. His efforts were so satisfactory that the powers at Frankfort indorsed whatever he did, knowing that it was well done. As stated before, it is not treating him right to fire him, and we do not believe that he will consent to be fired. After thinking it over he will probably decide to keep the job, and the fellers at Frankfort, being unable to get along without him, will not stand idly by and see him mistreated!

ELDORADO SCHOOL TO REOPEN.

VICTIMS OF MOB DECIDE TO SEEK MORE FRIENDLY SITE.

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. 22—The board of trustees of Eldorado Normal and Industrial Institute held its first meeting in this city since the mob broke up the school and caused the inmates to flee from that town under an attack with stones and threats to shoot colored citizens. The meeting was attended by seven of the nine members. A movement was started to re-establish the school at some other point, probably Metropolis, the school to open if possible in January.

President Alston and Principal Lott, who attended the meeting, claim that Sheriff Barter told them to leave Eldorado, and further refused to deputize colored citizens as deputy sheriffs to guard the school and other property against the lawless mob.

Resolutions were passed praising the action of Governor Yates, commanding the course of President Alston and expressing gratitude to church organizations and individuals for support.

THE MONEY MADE UP.

FOR THE EXTENSION OF THE TENNESSEE CENTRAL TO HOPKINSVILLE.

Hopkinsville, Ky., August 22—Practically all the money required to bring the Tennessee Central railroad to Hopkinsville has been raised. President Baxter was telephoned the result of the work done in soliciting subscriptions, and he warmly congratulated the citizens. He said he would be ready at any time to meet the representatives of the city and sign agreements for the extension of his road to a junction with the Illinois Central to this city. Colonel Baxter said he was favorably inclined towards Hopkinsville for the location of the Tennessee Central shops.

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

John Leidecker Refused to Obey the Order of Court.

He Paid the Money to the Interested Person and Was Arrested.

John Leidecker was arrested this morning by Constable Sears on a charge of contempt of court, and refusing to pay a $5 fine assessed against him for the same.

It appears that some time ago the Keller Manufacturing company brought suit against Bondurant and Co., a company that sold wagons, for about $30. No money was obtainable from the company, which was about that time insolvent, but papers were served on Leidecker attaching money he owed the company, and which it was ordered be paid into court, instead of to Bondurant and Co.

It seems no regular officer, but a man delegated by the magistrate, served the paper, and Leidecker paid no attention to it. He paid the money he owed to Bondurant and Co., thus, it is alleged, ignoring the order of court.

He claimed that the papers were not legally served on him, and that he had a right to pay the money where he did.

He was fined $3 for contempt of court, however, which he refused to pay, and was this morning arrested on a capias. He was taken before Justice Young and recognized, and his lawyer, Attorney L. K. Taylor, at once took out a writ of habeas corpus, and this afternoon it will be tried before Justice Young, to ascertain whether or not Leidecker was guilty of a contempt of court in the payment of the money.

LOUISVILLE CROWD.

THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL TAKES MANY TO THE METROPOLIS.

The Louisville excursion over the Illinois Central was liberally patronized out of Paducah, as at other points, but it was chiefly a colored excursion.

A train of four coaches was made up here this morning and left at about 8 o'clock as the second section of the Fulton and Louisville accommodation train No. 122. About 150 tickets were sold out here for that train and about the same number sold at noon for the other excursion train, which arrived from the south about 11 o'clock. Several coaches were to the last train, and when it left was composed of eight well filled coaches.

The following is a partial list of those who went from Paducah: Miss Fannie Murray, R. Geagen, Sr., Ella and Anna Larkin, Mrs. E. J. Roark, Mrs. S. N. Smith, Mrs. E. Merrigold, Mrs. Herman Katterjohn and child, James Vance, M. H. Danaher, Jr., Tom Copperwaite and family, Emma Vogt, Pansy Halstead, Tony Vogt, Charles Trueheart, Feliz Renfro, A. Carethers, John Davis, Obid Crouch, Oscar Evans, Lena Weyhing, who has been visiting here, O. Hutchins, Mrs. M. E. Ham, A. C. Morgan and F. J. Krazeo.

CAME BACK TO KENTUCKY.

Mr. George B. Lyne, formerly in the drug business here, passed through the city at noon today en route to his old home in Henderson, where he will again take up his residence. He left here and went to Oklahoma, where he went in business but sold out and came back to Kentucky. He stopped over a short time in Mayfield. He took the boat here and went to Henderson by river.

KILLED BY A TRAIN

Young Man of Benton Failed to Get off the Track.

Had Been to Paducah and Had Been Put Off the Passenger Train Near Here.

IT HAPPENED NEAR ELVA

Chal Dodd, a young man of Benton, about 24 years old, was struck by the N. C. and St. L. passenger train due here at 8:30 p. m., two miles this side of Elva, Marshall county, about 9:30 o'clock last night and killed.

The train was late. The young man came to Paducah with his cousin, Elvis Copeland, day before yesterday, and yesterday afternoon they boarded the outgoing train for Benton, but did not have the money to pay their fare, and were put off.

They then started to walk to Benton, and had gotten within two miles of Elva when they sat down to rest on the track, and the passenger train, which was late, came along and struck Dodd.

Copeland saw the danger and tried to warn him, but he seemed to be asleep and did not get off in time.

The engineer stopped the train and the injured man was brought to Paducah. His head had been crushed and the brains oozed out, and it was evident that nothing could be done for him. Drs. Robertson and Boyd did all that could be done, but the young man died in about an hour.

The deceased was a son of the late Prof. H. C. Dodd and a brother to Mr. L. E. Dodd, the former newspaper man, later guard in the penitentiary.

The remains were prepared for burial at the Effinger undertaking establishment and taken to Benton on the 7:15 o'clock train this morning.

The deceased was a nephew of Hen. W. M. Reed of Paducah.

GENDER OF PLYMOUTH ROCK.

From the Philadelphia Telegraph.

That environment has a great influence over the minds of children when it comes to the assimilation of knowledge is ever and anon brought to the fore. An illustration of this was given the other day by a bright boy pupil at the Mary Diston public school at Tacony, where nearly all the residents are versed in farming.

A flag raising was held at the school house several days ago, and after the banner had been flung to the breeze an exhibition was held of the drawings and works of the pupils during the past year. A teacher told this story of one of her little boy pupils: She had recited to the class the story of the landing of the Pilgrims, and as the children had been taking up the work, she requested each scholar to try and draw from the imagination a picture of the Plymouth Rock. Then it was that the little fellow got up and raised his hand.

"Well, Willie, what is it?" asked the teacher.

"Please am'mn, do you want a hen or a rooster drawn?" came the unexpected reply.

VERDICT IN MITCHELL CASE.

CORONER'S JURY RECOMMENDS COUNSELMAN, THOMPSON AND CLAFFEY BE HELD.

Chicago, Ill., August 22—After an investigation by the Chicago police extending over a fortnight and a two days' coroner's inquest, the authorities are still in doubt whether the body of the murdered woman found in the field at Seventy-fourth and State streets was really that of Minnie Mitchell. Three men stand accused of complicity in her death and that of Mrs. Anne Bartholin, and are held in heavy bond to the grand jury. Yet Patrolman Watson, who found the body, could not tell its sex because of its advanced stage of decomposition. Coroner's Physician Springer stated that the body must have lain ten or twelve weeks before the brain could have been absorbed and that had quicklime been used by the murderer, as conjectured, maggots would not have entered the body, as was the case. Even the coroner's jury, when it rendered a verdict today, recommending that Oscar Thompson, Edward Counselman and John Claffey be held to explain the death, stated only that the body was supposed to be that of Minnie Mitchell. Articles of clothing found near the dead body, however, were identified by the Mitchell relatives and finally the body was buried as Minnie Mitchell, who had not been seen since July 30 and who was last seen in the company of her sweetheart, William J. Bartholin. Two witnesses, Lieut. Healy and William L. Allen, testified that Counselman, the intimate friend of Bartholin, had told them that the fugitive wanted money with which to pay for a surgical operation on the Mitchell girl at a North Side hospital. With this conflicting testimony to hinder them, the police are almost stalled in their search for William Bartholin, whom the coroner's jury recommended to be apprehended.

Owensboro, Ky., August 22—It is now believed there was a woman in the $28,000 American Express robbery at Fordsville. When A. B. Schlitzbaum was arrested he said he was robbed by two men or by one man and a woman in man's clothes. He spoke of the smallness of the hands of one of the robbers and of the fact that he had two diamond rings on his fingers. The detectives have learned that on Friday evening a woman came to Fordsville and remained there all night, coming from Louisville. She left Saturday morning on the same train with Boatner. They seemed not to know each other. Conductor Lee Montgomery says that on two occasions he left the coach and returned rather suddenly and found them talking. They immediately ceased conversation. The woman was large and of masculine shape, and the several people who saw her say that she would have made up well as a man. She wore two diamond rings. She bought a ticket from Fordsville to Cloverport, but it is believed that she went on to Louisville.

INJUNCTION POSTPONED.

THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL TRANSFER BOAT CASE SET FOR SEPT. 11.

The railroad injunction cases will be tried before Judge Husbands tomorrow and much interest is manifested in the outcome. Both sides are confident of winning.

This morning the injunction proceeding in the Owen against the Illinois Central case in which the plaintiff attempts to stop the running of the Osborne, the Illinois Central transfer boat, during the pending of the action for damages against the company, was postponed until the 11th of September. Today was the regular day for the trial of the injunction, but was postponed by agreement.

COLLIDED WITH A COW.

Osceola, Ark., August 22—Northbound passenger train No. 217 on the St. Louis, Memphis and Southeastern railroad struck a cow eight miles below this place tonight, derailing the engine and completely blocking the road, so that it will be necessary to transfer passengers and mail. No injuries sustained by either crew or passengers. It is thought the line will be clear before noon tomorrow.

Mrs. John K. Hendricks of Smithland was in the city a short time today.

The Mandie Kilgore is at the wharf cleaning boilers, and immediately after the work is finished will go to Joplin after barges and then to the Tennessee river after ties.

Captain John Case, of the coal combine, is here with the steamer Fritz, of Cairo, to raise the sunken barge of coal below the I. C. incline here. The barge was sunk by the Wash Honshell some time ago.

The Alice Barr is about ready to go into the water again. She was let off the ways temporarily to get the Danville wharfboat on and was again taken out. The hull has been painted and she will be ready for the finishing touches before many days.

Roustabouts and laborers have already commenced to run up their prices at New Orleans, and unless the steamboat captains and owners get together and decide upon some plan for bringing more men there this winter there will be a repetition of last year's troubles on the river. Levee laborers are now demanding 30 cents an hour, and they are not over-abundant at that price.

Superintendent of Transportation Max Seebolt of the Louisville end of the big Pittsburg coal combine is delighted with the performance of the steamer J. B. Finley, under Engineer Hugh Gallagher. Her recent tow with thirty-seven pieces up the mighty Mississippi was a good one, and, as prior to that trip Mr. Gallagher was a mate in the combine's service, he regards thefeat as a wonder in the annals of towing. Engineer Gallagher's only experience as an engineer consisted in what he could pick up as he went along, but when he tackled the Finley's machinery he did it in a masterly way.

THE COURIER OF THE CZAR

By Jules Verne

Wassili Feodor went to find Ivan Ogareff, who availed himself of this opportunity to have daily relations with the commandant. Did the renegade think he could turn that circumstance to his own profit? Did he judge all men by himself? Could he believe that a Russian, even a political exile, could be so mean as to betray his country? Whatever was the case, Ivan Ogareff met with skillfully feigned eagerness all the advances made to him by the father of Nadia. The latter, the very next morning after the arrival of the pretended courier, went to the palace of the governor general. There he informed Ivan Ogareff of the circumstances under which his daughter had to leave European Russia and told him now what was his anxiety in her regard.

Ivan Ogareff did not know Nadia, although he had met her at the post-house of Iehim the day on which she was there with Michael Strogoff. But then he had paid no more attention to her than the two journalists, who were at the same time in the posthouse. He could not therefore give any news of his daughter to Wassili Feodor.

"But at what time?" asked Ivan Ogareff, "had your daughter to leave Russia's territory?"

"At nearly the same time as you," replied Wassili Feodor.

"I quitted Moscow on the 15th of July."

"And Nadia also had to leave Moscow on that date. Her letter told me so expressly."

"She was at Moscow on the 15th of July?" asked Ivan Ogareff.

"Yes, certainly at that date."

"Very well," replied Ivan Ogareff. Then, recollecting himself, he added: "But, no; I was forgetting. I was about to confound dates. It is unfortunately too probable that your daughter has had to cross the frontier, and only one hope remains—that she may have stopped on receiving news of the Tartar invasion!"

Wassili Feodor hung down his head. He knew Nadia, and he knew well that nothing would prevent her setting off. By this statement Ivan Ogareff had just committed gratuitously an act of real cruelty. With one word he could reassure Wassili Feodor.

Although Nadia had passed the frontier under the circumstances previously described, Wassili Feodor, by comparing the date at which his daughter was certainly at Nijni Novgorod and the date of the order forbidding any one to leave it, would without doubt draw this conclusion—that Nadia could not have been exposed to the dangers of an invasion and that she was still, in spite of herself, on the European territory of the empire.

Ivan Ogareff might have said that word. He did not say it. Wassili Feodor withdrew heartbroken. After that interview his last hope was destroyed.

During the two following days the grand duke several times asked for the pretended Michael Strogoff and had him repeat all that he had heard in the imperial cabinet of the New Palace. Ivan Ogareff, prepared for all those questions, answered without ever hesitating. He did not conceal designedly that the government of the czar had been altogether taken by surprise by the invasion; that the rising had been prepared with the greatest secrecy; that the Tartars were already masters of the line of the Oboi when the news reached Moscow, and finally that nothing was ready in the Russian provinces to throw into Siberia troops sufficient to repel the invaders.

Afterward Ivan Ogareff, entirely free in his movements, began to study Irkutsk, the state of its fortifications, their weak points, in order eventually to make use of those observations if any circumstance should prevent the consummation of his treason. He devoted himself more particularly to the examination of the Bolchais gate, which he intended treacherously to surrender. Twice at night he came to inspect that gate and the fortifications around it. He walked about there without any fear of exposing himself to the missiles of the besiegers, whose first posts were less than a ver'st from the ramparts. He knew well that he was not exposed—nay, even that he was recognized. He had had a glimpse of a shadow which had glided to the foot of the ramparts.

Sangarre, risking her life, had just come to try to put herself in communication with Ivan Ogareff. Besides, the besieged for two days had enjoyed a tranquillity to which they had not been accustomed since the Tartars first in-

Irkutsk were constantly on the alert. All the measures which were required to repel an attack on points never before threatened were taken.

The grand duke and General Voronoff visited the various posts which had been strengthened by their orders. The picked corps of Wassili Feodor occupied the north of the town, but with the injunction to march at once to where the danger should be most pressing. The right bank of the Angara was protected by the only artillery at their disposal.

With these measures taken in time, thanks to the opportune recommendations of Ivan Ogareff, there was every reason to hope that the prepared attack would not succeed. In that case the Tartars, discouraged for the time, without doubt would defer for a few days any new attack against the town. Besides, the troops expected by the grand duke might arrive any hour. The safety or the loss of Irkutsk hung on a thread.

On that day the sun, which had risen at twenty minutes past 6, had set at 5:40. Twilight would still have to struggle with night for two hours. Then space would be filled with thick darkness, for heavy clouds hung still in the air, and the moon would not appear. This profound obscurity would favor more completely the plans of Ivan Ogareff.

Already, for some days, an extremely keen frost had come as a prelude to the rigors of the Siberian winter, and on that night the cold was still more piercing. The soldiers posted on the right bank of the Angara, being forced to hide their presence, had not kindled any fires. They therefore suffered dreadfully from great lowering of the temperature. At some feet below them the ice blocks floated past, following the current of the river.

During all that day they had seen them in close ranks floating rapidly between the two banks. That circumstance, observed by the grand duke and his officers, had been considered as fortunate. It was evident that if the bed of the river became obstructed the passage of it would become altogether impracticable.

The Tartars would not be able to manage either rafts or boats. As for attempting to cross the river over the blocks of ice when the cold should have joined them, that was not possible. The bed, newly cemented, would not have been strong enough for the passage over it of an attacking column.

But Ivan Ogareff did not regret that circumstance, although it appeared favorable to the defenders of Irkutsk, for the traitor knew well that the Tartars were not seeking to cross the Angara and that at least on that side the attempt would only be a feint. Nevertheless toward 10 o'clock at night the state of the river visibly changed, to the extreme surprise of the besieged and now to their disadvantage. The passage, up to that time impracticable, suddenly became possible. The bed of the Angara soon became free. The floating ice, which for some days had come down the river in great quantities, disappeared, and very little could be seen between the two banks.

The Russian officers, who had noticed this change in the state of the river, made it known to the grand duke. Besides, it was explained in this way that at some narrow portion of the Angara the floating ice had accumulated and found a barrier. We know that such was the case. The passage of the Angara was therefore open to the besiegers; hence the necessity for the Russians to watch with greater attention than ever.

In the camp of the Angara there was plenty of agitation, as was proved by the lights constantly flitting about. At a ver'st up above, as also down below the point where the fortification slopes down to the river, there was a dull murmur, which proved that the Tartars were on foot, waiting for some signal. Again an hour passed by. Nothing new.

Two o'clock in the morning was about to strike from the clock tower of the cathedral of Irkutsk and no movement had taken place to disclose the hostile intentions of the besiegers. The grand duke and his officers began to ask themselves if they had not been led into error, if it had really entered into the plan of the Tartars to attempt to surprise the town.

The preceding nights had not by any means been so calm. Firing had been kept up from the advanced posts, and shells had hissed through the air, and this time there was nothing of the kind. The grand duke, General Voronoff, their aids-de-camp, waited therefore, ready to give their orders according to the circumstances.

For the first time in the parliamentary history of Italy an avowed anarchist, Pietro Calzagni, is a candidate for a seat in the chamber of deputies. He lives on a small island in the Mediterranean and must not leave there without government consent. Signor Calzagni has been imprisoned several times because of his anarchistic utterances, was released only a short time ago on account of ill health and has fled to this country and to England more than once to escape the police.

TIME OUT SUNDAY

Girl Who Has Been in Jail to be Released.

Says She Will Go to Nashville as Soon as She Gets Free.

Pearl Leon Smith, the supposed kleptomaniac, who is serving a term in the county jail for petty larceny, will be released Saturday night at 12 o'clock, that being the time her ten day term expires. She says that she will make hasty tracks for her home in Nashville and will remain in Paducah no longer than she can help. She is a woman of peculiar disposition and her mind does not seem to affix itself to any one subject any length of time and is rather inclined to roam about, catching a little here and a little there.

Captain Bailey was amused at her elation over the fact that he had her pocketbook which contains her real name and did not think to look into it. Captain Bailey says that he did not have her pocket book but that it was in the hands of Chief Collins, but says that as to her past records and her name he can tell her even more than she suspects any one knows. He has learned that she is really from Nashville and infers that he has facts in his possession that might be used to send her back to Nashville in the role of a prisoner. It is positively known that she has gone by the name of Rosa Wilson, but the captain would say no more in regard to the matter of her record. He will probably see her before she leaves and tell her a few things that might surprise her and will serve to keep her clear of Paducah in the future.

It is said her right name is Pearl Rowena Morton.

SUITS FILED.

A NUMBER OF SMALL ACTIONS BEGUN IN CIRCUIT COURT.

This is the last day for filing suits for the coming term of circuit court and the following have been filed since yesterday afternoon.

Parlin and Orendorff, of Canton, Ill., against Tom Lyle and others, suit to recover $265, an alleged balance on a note.

M. Maxon against James Decker, son, suit to recover an alleged face of a note amounting to $186.87 and the enforcement of a lien on property.

Donna L. Carney against Ell Guthrie, suit for $5,200 damages sustained in an accident at the defendant's place of business several months ago. The young lady was injured by the elevator.

Langstaff-Orme Co. against Thomas Wallen, suit to recover an alleged debt of $126.06 for lumber, etc.

Kate E. Mizee against J. E. Mizee, for divorce, alleging abandonment. She states that they were married in June, 1900, and in July, 1900, he deserted her. The defendant is the pugilist who was formerly a trainer at the Paducah Athletic club. He has been here several times since the club disbanded.

FELL 1200 FEET.

DRIVEN INTO THE EARTH SIX INCHES, BUT MAY RECOVER.

Danville, Ill., August 22—At the Homer fair this afternoon 12,000 people saw the aeronaut, L. A. Sartell of Fairwell, Mich., fall 1,200 feet. When he cut loose from his balloon, his parachute failed to open. His feet were driven into the earth six inches and there was a compound fracture of both limbs. He may recover. Sartell's wife was killed two months ago by a fall from a balloon near Cairo, Ill.

NEW MACHINERY

Great Improvements to be Made at the I. C. Shops.

Boilers and Engine Are Expected to Arrive in a Few Days.

The four new boilers and the new 400 horse power engine that were a short time ago ordered for the local Illinois Central shops will be here within a few days and the work of placing them in will begin immediately upon their arrival.

The boilers have a capacity of 150 horse power each and are much larger than the boilers now in use. The present boilers have been in the local shops ever since the shops were built and while they are not worn out, are not in the best of condition. The engine will have a house of its own and will run the machinery in all the departments. The engines in the machine department and the wood working departments will be taken out and used at some other point on the system. Belts will be used in transferring the power from one shop to the other and it is thought that the new arrangement will result satisfactorily.

According to the estimate of the shop men the work of building the engine house, which will be located near the present power house, will require about 60 days, and from the time of the arrival of the engine and boilers the work will be rapidly pushed.

NICE IMPROVEMENTS.

WORK INSIDE THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH FINISHED TODAY.

The work on the interior of the First Presbyterian church will be completed today, and the congregation will be able to worship in it on Sunday. The church has been greatly improved and presents a most beautiful and harmonious appearance, having been redecorated and refurnished throughout.

The Rev. Dr. Cave is at home from his vacation, which was spent in his native state, Virginia, and is much benefited by his several weeks' rest.

MURDER OR SUICIDE.

STARTLES NEWPORT BY A FOUL PLAY SUGGESTION.

Williamsport, Pa., August 22—It is learned here tonight that Edward P. Remington, the brother of Robert R. Remington, who was supposed to have committed suicide at Newport on Monday, believes he was murdered. An investigation is under way.

WANTED TO SEE IT SMOKE.

The fire departments were called to the John L. Powell residence on North Fifth street today about 11:30 to extinguish a small blaze in the stable. Some small boy had set the barn afire to see the smoke. No damage was done.
